TRAINING IN THE PRACTICAL CARE OF FINE ART & DESIGN ON BOARD SUPERYACHTS, ESTATES AND PRIVATE RESIDENCES

Courses in all aspects of art management for captains, crew, concierge and household staff employed by art collectors

PANDORA ART SERVICES

On board art collections can be worth as much or more than the superyacht itself.

Successfully caring for prestigious objects presents interior crew with unique challenges. This 1-2 day customisable certified course will equip you with the introductory knowledge and practical skills to care for art collections and luxury design on board superyachts.

- Could you safely organise the packing and shipping of a valuable painting?
- How should you get fine art objects cleaned, conserved or technically analysed?
- What do you need to know to care for valuable materials responsibly?
- Can you distinguish painting styles?
- Where should fine art NOT be hung?
- What are the insurance implications of damage to art at sea?

COURSE OVERVIEW

You will be introduced to art & design history with the physical mechanics of the art world. You will learn to use the correct terminology and up to date practices in arts management as well as specific considerations for handling art objects on a yacht. Topics covered will include an art history overview, environmental risks, handling and customs, conservation, fakes and forgeries, copyright and more. You will be introduced to art as a fundamental feature of the luxury sector and gain an insight into its rich and diverse history.

The course is taught in English by Pandora Mather-Lees and Wendy Zieger, art historians with over 20 years' experience in the commercial art sector with galleries, museums, auctions houses, art-related platforms, logistics, education and a range of professional art organisations. Delivered globally through ACREW, professional development in yachting, privately on request, at the residence or on board, with continuing support after training.
